I'M SWEET ENOUGH!

Sugar-Free for September!

Sunday September 16, 2018 • 1 – 4:00 p.m.

The Ben Sadowski Auditorium, Mount Sinai Hospital, Toronto

Hear three world-renowned experts explain how and why cutting processed sugar from your diet is one of the best things you can do for your health.

Dr. Robert H. Lustig, M.D., M.S.L. is Professor emeritus of Pediatrics, Division of Endocrinology at the University of California, San Francisco (UCSF). He specializes in the field of neuroendocrinology, with an emphasis on the regulation of energy balance by the central nervous system. Dr. Lustig believes the food business, by pushing processed food loaded with sugar, has hacked our bodies and minds to pursue pleasure instead of happiness; fostering today's epidemics of addiction and depression. Yet by focusing on real food, we can beat the odds against sugar, processed food, obesity, and disease.

Dr. Nicole Avena, Ph.D. is a research neuroscientist, author and expert in the fields of nutrition, diet and addiction, including during pregnancy and in infants and children. She received a Ph.D. in Neuroscience and Psychology from Princeton University, followed by a postdoctoral fellowship in molecular biology at The Rockefeller University in New York City. Her wellness-series talks are designed for non-scientist audiences interested in improving health and learning about the science to do so.
